Conservative Christian Club of Marion County to oppose Sen. Stan McClain's SB 1118 as "not fair"

CCC says bill hurts the locals to benefit the more powerful, issues briefing report opposing it, seeks meetings with state legislators in Marion County

The Executive Board of the Conservative Christian Club of Marion County has voted unanimously to oppose their home county State Senator Stan McClain's proposed legislation on land use and development, SB 1118.

Beginning as a briefing report for the CCC executive board, with no pre-conceived ideas in favor or in opposition, CCC's 4000-word analysis concluded "SB 1118 sets aside the interests of those who already live here in favor of outsiders and their right to earn profits. It very much tips the scales against the locals. That's just not fair." (full report: HERE).

Carl S. Vollmer, Vice President, announced the CCC executive board's decision to oppose SB 1118 in the state senate and its companion bill in the State House. CCC will now share their report with their 400 Marion County members and subscribers and seek meetings with each of the 6 Marion County State legislators to make sure they have seen the CCC Analysis of the bill and can respond to them directly in person about their concerns, and the legislator's plans on how they would vote. The legislators are: Sen. Keith Perry (R-8), Sen. Stan McClain (R-9), Rep. Richard Gentry (R-27), Rep. J.J. Grow (R-23), Rep. Yvonne Hayes-Hinson (D-21), Rep. Ryan Chamberlin (R-24).

The Conservative Christian Club of Marion County is a chapter of two national organizations, Tea Party Patriots (Jenny Beth Martin, President) and Conservative Christian Center (Kevin Peterson, National Director).

CCC holds monthly meetings which have featured major speakers including Jenny Beth Martin, nationally recognized TV personality and book author Gordon Chang, TV personality Lt. Col. Tony Shaffer, White House Border Czar Tom Homan, FBI whistleblower and author Stephen Friend, the top right to life speaker in America, Father Frank Pavone, Sheriff Billy Woods, TV personality Jeffrey Lord, and more. CCC hosted the first Freedom Leadership Conference in Ocala this past year and will host the second at the Hilton Ocala as a birthday celebration for President Donald Trump on June 13. The annual Conference started in southern California 26 years ago, moved to Northern Virginia and is now in Ocala.
